

Bachelor thesis named Legalization of prostitution in Czech Republic? engages the dilemma of prostitution and its possible legalization. This topic is discussed from historical, juridical and also theological ethics point of view and is trying to answer the question – whether or when and under which conditions, is the legalization of prostitution in CR possible.