Mentor's comments both on the thesis and the student's approach:

Konstantinos Bountalis diploma thesis experimental work was focused on immunohistochemical analysis of cell adhesion molecules in mouse aorta. He quickly learned basic principles of immunohistochemistry and managed to use two different approaches. His thesis is well written with excellent English. The interpretation of results is clear by representative pictures of immunohistochemical staining, and results are critically discussed and concluded.

Evaluation of Master's thesis: excellent

Recommendations for the thesis defense: recommended
