

The aim of this thesis was, through the use of the questionnaire study, to gain information on possibilities of utilization of physiotherapeutic procedures and their subjective effects on patients with inherited and diabetic neuropathies. There are also a prosthetic care and surgical solution of leg's deformities, contribution of spa systems in comparison with an ambulatory ( non-resident ) care and the life style's adjustments regarding the disease included in the survey.