

The aim of this thesis was to find the ability to compensate the postural stability demands, the balance, equalized weighting and activating the Deep Stabilization System of the Spine by patients after nefrectomy. The target group: patients with Wilms tumor in anamnesis.